School Report.

On presenting to the citizens of Wentworth our annual school report I wish to state that during the past three years I have felt a deep interest in the schools of this town, and, with great pleasure I have noticed the steady advancement of nearly all the pupils.

On examination of the page of school statistics you will find the pupils living in remote parts of the town have been especially ambitious to have their names on the roll of honor, the percent attendance being better in such places. Much credit should be given to the parents for this, as I find without their encouragement no school can be what it should be. In a large majority of the schools I can plainly see that the parents, teachers and scholars have united their efforts to make a success.

In consequence of the limited amount of school money appropriated last spring we were obliged to manage a little differently in several cases than we would have liked to. Viz: We intended to have eight weeks in our winter term, making thirty weeks for the year; thereby enabling the district to draw about three hundred dollars more money from the state treasury. It is possible that if we can have two extra weeks next spring term, that that will be sufficient; although in order to do this we may have to take a part of the month of July.

There were many instances where there were small scholars living far away that were obliged to walk to and from school, or be carried by parents without pay from the town, where a very little more money would have enabled us to adjust matters more satisfactorily.

Thanking the parents, teachers, and scholars for much courtesy shown me at all times, I remain very respectfully yours,

JOHN P. CURRIER.
